NUTTY PECAN FACTS:

- There are 2 ways people pronounce PECAN and no one can agree on which is correct. Are you team pee-KAHN or team PEE-can?
- Pecan trees live for up to 300 years and are native to the United States.
- It takes 12 years before a pecan tree reaches maturity to start producing these yummy nuts and then they only produce every 2 years.
- In the 1940s, James Young shelled pecans in Florence, SC under the Young Pecan brand and became the world's largest pecan shelling operation. Young's Pecan transitioned to Young's Premium Foods and their flagship store is still in Florence as a stop on the SC Pecan Trail.
- Thomas Jefferson planted a pecan tree in his yard and gifted the other founding fathers pecans he grew.
- April 14th is National Pecan Day in the US and July 12th is National Pecan Pie Day.
- Pecan wood was used for the handles of the Olympic Torches in the 1996 Olympics.

You've completed the section of the Pecan Trail within the city of Florence but more adventure awaits! Enjoy the scenic drive to Lake City, a part of Florence County that hosts Artfields each spring. This event transforms the downtown of Lake City into a regional art gallery with exhibitions, competitions, and events.

Be sure to mark your calendar for the first Saturday of November as Florence hosts the SC Pecan Music & Food Festival (also called SC Pecan Festival). It's a major event that draws over 50,000 people downtown, celebrating pecans via food, music, arts, local vendors, and more.
